

21 June 1961

MEMORANDUM TO THE DIRECTOR:

1. This memorandum is for information only.
2. Here is the second and final article on CIA in the 26 June 1961, edition of the New Republic. The consensus of the article is that CIA has become too big for its britches, and that the changing of its name and some of its faces is not enough, but that its current structure should be broken up and rearranged, and a successor to CIA established answerable to the Secretary of State.
3. Sherman Kent's book, Strategic Intelligence, is quoted throughout the article.

Stanley J. Grogan
Assistant to the Director
